Narrator Lance is doing just fine for himself in New Orleans, except for one small thing: he can't get the girl out of his mind. She's the one who broke his heart, and left him cold when she walked out on their engagement. Not that Lance could blame her when she discovered his bad boy past—a past that included one of her best friends—but it still hurts. So now he's determined to get her back, with some help from his best friend (an ex-thug turned local rap star named Akhet.) But things get crazy when Akhet is suddenly faced with some unfinished business from his former life, and Lance is swept up in the trouble. But Lance is more determined than ever to come through and win back his woman, especially when he learns a dangerous lesson: before you can start on the future, you have to put the past to rest.
